RUSHVILLE MEN WIN APPLAUSE

Judge Will M. Sparks and James E. Watson Furnish Oratory at Shelbyville Banquet.

CLIMAX TO THE DAY MEETING

At Formation of Hoosier Business Men's Association, Ben A. Cox, is Elected Vice-President.

Rushville was ably represented yesterday, in point of numbers, at the meeting of the Hoosier Business Men's association, and equally as well represented, in point of oratorical effort, by James E. Watson and Judge Will M. Sparks in the evening when the closing event, a monster banquet was held.

At the afternoon session of business men, which did not close until six o'clock, the Hoosier Business Men's association was formed and Will C. Pulse, a lumber dealer of Greensburg, who has been active in boosting the organization, was elected president. Ben A. Cox of this city was selected as vice-president.

The movement that originated the association formed yesterday was started in Rushville several weeks ago when a district banquet of business men was held here. The chief aim of the organization is to obtain honest advertising for its members and to work out other problems for their benefit.

Yesterday was a big day for Shelbyville, culminating in the banquet last night when two hundred and fifty men sat down. Preceding the meeting of business men, there was a big Flag Day celebration staged by the Shelbyville Elks. A monster parade was held and a huge flag presented to the city.

James E. Watson was not on the regular toast list, but he managed to reach Shelbyville in time for the banquet and was given a monster ovation by the banqueters. The fact that it was Flag Day was an incentive to many of the after-dinner speakers for arousing the emotions of the crowd.

Judge Will M. Sparks kept the diners in an uproar with his pleasantries about credit. He described the manner in which he was invited to address the meeting and detailed his subsequent silent consideration of the probably outcome of the foray with his creditors.

"Gentleman," he said, "I count this quite an honor. It is the first time in my life that I have ever met my creditors collectively. True, I have had conversation with them all individually, through many a closeted session, I have never before had the pleasure of meeting them in a bunch."

"I was a bit suspicious when the longest debtor I have, called on me in my office. I thought it over and decided that no harm would befall me. While I see bland smiles on your faces, I am fearful that they portend great catastrophes for me when I reach home."

But speaking in a serious vein, Judge Sparks counseled living within one's income as a means of curing many ills of the day. He said that much of the poor credit was due to that one thing alone. Judge Sparks asked, with great earnestness, if it would not be wise for all of the banqueters, representing the business men of the district, to set for the man whom they considered poor credit, an example by living within their means. Judge Sparks also discussed the trade-at-home propaganda and declared that the proper way to get at the seat of that trouble is for the merchants and their families to trade at home.

AN APPROPRIATE PROGRAM

Wagoner's Orchestra Gives Concert to Audience of 300 People

The concert given by the A. P. Wagoner orchestra last night at St. Paul's Methodist church proved a treat for music lovers. The orchestra composed of sixteen pieces rendered a high quality of music and was received with great enthusiasm by an audience numbering close to three hundred. The orchestra opened the program with national airs which was appropriate because of flag day. The proceeds of the concert will go towards a new piano. The weather kept the attendance down but those in charge were highly pleased with the interest shown.

FIFTY GUESTS AT WOMEN'S MEETING

Main Address of Missionary Group Gathering is Given by Missionary From India

MEETING PLACE UNDECIDED

The group meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church held here yesterday was attended by fifty visitors and the meeting was considered one of the best ever held by the organization. The churches in this group are members of the Connerville district and includes societies in Morristown, Arlington, Milton, Dodridge Chapel, Connerville (two churches) and Rushville.

The program was carried out as originally planned with the exception of the discussion of literature by Mrs. Sam Ward of Connerville, who was unable to attend. The feature address of the day was the talk of Miss Gertrude Voightlander, a returned missionary from India.

The place of meeting next year was left to the executive committee of the district organization. Mrs. Charles McGraw of Connerville presided at the session here yesterday.

CLAIMS EXCEED PERSONAL ESTATE

Allegation of W. O. Stewart Who Files Petition to Sell Riley Stewart Real Estate.

ABOUT $3,500 AMOUNT OF DEBTS

William O. Stewart, administrator of the estate of the late Riley Stewart, has filed a petition in circuit court to sell real estate to pay the debts. The petition is directed against Lowell E. Stewart, Clea DeHilla, Kelly DeHilla, Earl Stewart, James W. Logan and Clarinda Smith.

It is alleged that the valid claims against the estate amount to approximately $3,500 and the personal estate is not sufficient to pay this indebtedness. The real estate consists of 40 acres of land which is encumbered and the court is asked that an order be issued directing the administrator to sell the land in order to meet the debts.

The fire bell rang several times today due to damage done to one of the wires when it came in contact with a high tension I. & C. wire. Repairs were made this afternoon.

CONTROVERSY ENDS PEACEABLY

Sheriff Cavitt Appears Before Court Today and Says he Will Not Work Prisoners on Farm.

NO INTENTIONAL WRONG DONE

He Declares to Judge Sparks That He Had Not Heard Adverse Criticism Being Made.

The controversy between the court and Sheriff Cavitt over working the jail prisoners at the Cavitt farm north of the city has ended peaceably as the sheriff told Judge Sparks this morning that he would not again take the prisoners to the farm.

Sheriff Cavitt told the court that he did no wrong intentionally and merely took the prisoners to the farm in order to give them some exercise. Judge Sparks had threatened to communicate with the governor regarding the action of the sheriff, but on the promise not to take the prisoners to the farm this action will be dropped.

The sheriff told the court he was not aware of the adverse criticism being heaped at the court because of the taking of the prisoners to the farm and that he did not intend to embarrass the court. Sheriff Cavitt was told that the court had no objection to giving the prisoners exercise around the jail, but thought it was going a little too far in taking them to the farm.

Judge Sparks told Sheriff Cavitt that he could see no reason why the court and the sheriff's office could not continue on the same friendly relations as in the past and the difficulty was adjusted to the satisfaction of all.

Numerous complaints had reached Judge Sparks and he was receiving the blunt of the blame for the action of the sheriff, when as a matter of fact he was in no way responsible. The largest number of complaints came regarding Newton Casey, convicted "bootlegger." It was stated that Casey has been at the Cavitt farm many days this spring and summer and the more radical could not see much punishment in this for him.

According to Sheriff Cavitt, the prisoners at the jail will receive their exercise doing odd work around the jail and not at the farm.

CONVENTION TO END TOMORROW

Democrats Will Nominate Wilson and Marshall and not Wait Until Saturday as Planned

QUICK ACTION PROMISED

Delegates Call for Bryan and Chairman James Promises he Will Speak Before Adjournment

(By United Press) Coliseum, St. Louis, June 15.—President Wilson and Vice-president Marshall will be renominated at a session beginning at nine o'clock tonight and the Democratic national convention will end tomorrow.

This definite promise of quick action came today when the rules committee reported. Judge Westcott of New Jersey will place Wilson's name before the convention.

A stirring speech by Chairman James followed by an eleven minute demonstration kept the delegates at fever heat today. The popularity of William Jennings Bryan was demonstrated when delegates shouted from the floor, demanding that he be heard from.

James gave definite word that Bryan will address the convention. After many had called for Bryan James said:

"The chair desires to state that Mr. Bryan has gone to the city club to make a speech. You will have ample opportunity to hear from him during the convention."

Senator James started a tremendous ovation for President Wilson when he said: "Without orphaning a single child, without widowing a single wife, without the firing of a single gun, I say to you, Woodrow Wilson won from the most militant power that has ever brooded over a battlefield complete acquiescence in his demand of American rights."

In a few minutes a parade of standards started with the big Texas lone star flag leading. Cheering swept the entire hall and the galleries. Indiana, Arkansas, Virginia and Kentucky were among the states that joined. Senator Taggart, standing besides James, leaned over and shouted, "Let them go."

Bryan sat solidly through all of the din, fanning himself and apparently oblivious of the demonstration.

Today's session was a picturesque one. It was marked by a note of defiance and boast of President Wilson's successful maintenance of peace. It was a profession of optimism that the people would perpetuate the Wilson policies.

The platform submitted to the Democratic convention will look very different from that drawn by President Wilson. Language is certain to be greatly changed, it became known this afternoon, while members of the platform committee presided and argued over the platform.

"The man that wrote it won't recognize it," said one of the members of the committee, a strong supporter of the president.

It was said, however, that the platform will carry the message desired by the president, though much condensed.

James concluded his speech at exactly 1:01 o'clock. His collar was flopping over his coat. His bald head was beaded with sweat and his hair was water soaked, but James looked happy, nevertheless.

THREE AMERICAN SOLDIERS KILLED

Seven Others Wounded in 30-Minute Battle With Mexican Bandits Near San Ananito

TROOPERS SEEKING TRAIL

(By United Press) San Antonio, June 15.—Three American soldiers are dead as a result of a thirty minute battle last night between Mexican bandits and two troops of United States cavalry near San Ananito. Seven American troopers were wounded. Bodies of six Mexicans and six horses were found in the brush, according to the reports that Major Gray, in command, made to General Mann, at Laredo.

The Mexican party, which had forded the Rio Grande, scattered. American scouts are trying to find the trail and the American forces will follow the Mexicans when the trail is picked up.

HYPHENATES ARE TO BE DENOUNCED

Democratic National Platform Will Make Some Strong Declaration on That Score

WILSON'S IDEAS EMBODIED

(By United Press) St. Louis, June 15.—Certain hyphenated organizations in the United States charged with attempting to influence the course of this government in its foreign relations will be vigorously denounced in the platform to be adopted by the Democratic national convention.

President Wilson's ideas on international relations, Mexico, suffrage and other issues will dominate the platform. It was learned today, however, that the tentative draft which was sent to St. Louis by Secretary Baker touched only the high spots, leaving numerous minor issues to be worked out by the resolutions committee.

Denunciation of organizations endeavoring to influence this government's policy will come in the Americanism plank. Not only will the organizations themselves be denounced but any party seeking political advantage through such organizations will be included. Strong declaration is made that all Americans should be for America first, and whole hearted allegiance given this government to the exclusion of all others.

William Hittle of Union township has been declared a person of unsound mind and application has been made for his admittance to the asylum at Madison.

PLEADS NOT TO "SWAP HORSES"

Senator Ollie James Makes Eloquent Defense of Wilson Regime at Democratic Convention

PROUD OF LEADER, HE SAYS

Declares Administration Has Brought Prosperity and Plenty to 100,000,000 Americans

(By United Press)

Coliseum, St. Louis, June 15.—His voice burning with emotion, Senator Ollie James of Kentucky today eloquently told the story of the three years of Democratic leadership and lauded Woodrow Wilson as the greatest American of present day history. It was the secondary keynote speech of the Democratic national convention and it evoked a tremendous burst of enthusiasm.

The appeal of James was not to "swap horses while crossing a bloody stream" and a plea for the recognition of the president as a "master diplomat" and "unconquerable leader."

"The Democratic party is proud of the achievement of Woodrow Wilson," he said. "He has brought prosperity and plenty to 100,000,000 Americans. He has given work to every willing hand in the republic. Every toiler has the full dinner pail, full to overflowing."

Shortly before Chairman James took the platform it became known definitely that the convention would be speeded up. The convention probably will end not later than Friday evening. Early tomorrow the nominating will begin.

Continuing, Senator James, the permanent chairman of the convention, spoke in part as follows:

During three years of its national control Democracy has enacted into law more progressive remedial legislation than the Nation has ever had written upon its statute books since its birth. In former national contests in the last two decades our party came as a prophet. We could only point out wrongs and promise remedies; but to-day we come with deeds, not words; with performance, not promise. Our deeds in the Nation have been greater than our words upon the hustings; our performance as the lawmaker greater than our promise as the campaigner. In other words, the Democratic Party has kept its word with the American people. We have made good. We have by our conduct of the affairs of this Nation deserved the renewed confidence of its people by proving worthy of the confidence once bestowed.

The Democratic Party rejoices that under this administration for the first time since the Civil War it was enabled to amend the Constitution of the United States in the interest of good government and the masses of the people. We freed the Senate from the control of the great interests by making it elective by the people at the polls. We wrote into the Constitution itself an amendment, susceptible of no dispute, that wealth should bear its proper burden of the taxation necessary to run the Government efficiently, economically, and honestly.

The Democratic Party undertook to enact a new tariff law in keeping with the historic principles of the Democratic Party and justice to all the people. The Democratic Party believes that the right of taxation can only exist for the purpose of raising sufficient revenue to run the Government. Taxation never did justly exist and never will in a free government for the purpose of enriching one class at the expense of

WATSON INVITED TO MAKE ADDRESS

Rushville Man is Asked to Speak at Cornerstone Laying of Seymour Federal Building.

DATE NOT ANNOUNCED YET

James E. Watson, of Rushville, has been invited to make the address at the laying of the corner stone of the new Federal building, says the Seymour Republican. The invitation has been extended on behalf of the Commercial Club and Jackson Lodge No. 146, F. and A. M., which is to have charge of the ceremony, and both bodies, as well as the many friends of the Rushville statesman, are hoping that he may be able to come. Congressman Lincoln Dixon has notified the committee that it will be impossible for him to leave his duties at Washington.

Harry H. McDonald, Master of Jackson Lodge, received a communication Monday from Grand Master H. S. Tuthill, of Michigan City, saying that he felt sure he could be present to officiate providing the date was fixed for some day next week.

W. C. Staver, in charge of the construction of the building, said this afternoon that he would be able to set a date within the next day or two, and that it would in all probability be about the middle of next week.

The program, besides the Masonic ceremony and the address, will include some special music, and the Seymour Concert Band may be asked to play.

MYSTIC THEATRE TOMORROW

Gabriele D'Annunzio, who is unquestionably Italy's foremost dramatist, wrote and personally staged the photo spectacle, "CABIRIA." Experts in motion photography predict a new epoch with the introduction of this remarkable film, which is a historical vision of the third century B. C., immediately after the close of the first Punic war. It has never been equalled for regal splendor and barbaric magnificence. Its cast is composed of the best known players of Rome and the ensembles, mobs and armies number over seven thousand people.

D'Annunzio has taken as a basis of this story the strife between Carthage and the Romans, at the time Hannibal took command of the Carthaginian forces, and surprised his antagonists by crossing the Alps with his army. The romance of "CABIRIA" is fictional, but the action and main facts, historical. "Cabiria" the title is the principal character of the scenario. The name means "one rescued from the flames" and Cabiria, an infant child, taken prisoner during the eruption of Mt. Etna, is sold into slavery. The high Priest of the Temple of Moloch was the purchaser and the infant is kept with others until the time arrives for her to be sacrificed to Moloch, whom the Carthaginians worshipped as the God of Fire. She is saved by a young Roman, "Fulvius," and her experiences and sensational escape with the assistance of a veritable Hercules, form the nucleus of the plot. 1200 scenes, a cast of 7,000 characters, herds of elephants and camels—a $250,000 production.

For fun she flirts with Jed Brooks who falls in love with her. One day her husband arrives on the scenes and a fight starts. Brooks then learns the true history of the cast and shoot himself. His sister dedicates her life to vengeance and how well she succeeds is better told by the picture.

Pearl White, Creighton Hale and Sheldon Lewis will be seen in “The Hooded Helper” at the Gem tonight and the seventh episode of the Pathé serial, “The Iron Claw,” will also be shown. An attempted murder is shown in this film, but is cleverly frustrated. “Starved to Death in a Restaurant,” is the title of a funny comedy with two Dutchmen, that make real fun, in the lead parts. “The Deacon’s Waterloo,” and “The Doll Doctor” will be the attractions tomorrow.

1912 AND 1916 ARE DIFFERENT

Some Planks in the Platform of
Four Years Ago Will be Noticeably Lacking This Year.

Washington, June 15—The Republican Publicity Association, through its president, Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement at its Washington headquarters:

“While there seems to be unity of opinion as to the individuals who will be nominated on the National Democratic ticket, it is difficult to imagine upon what sort of a platform of policies those candidates will run. The candidates will be the same as those named in 1912. Manifestly the platform must be radically different. The principal planks upon which the Democratic party made its campaign in 1912 will be chiefly notable by their absence from the platform of 1916.

“There will be no denunciation of the principle of a protective tariff.

“There will be no declaration in favor of free tolls through the Panama Canal.

“There will be no criticism of Republican extravagance.

“No pledge of economy will be made, either directly or inferentially.

“Not a word will be said in regard to the maintenance of the spirit of the civil service law.

“If there be any mention of the single term principle it will be in the nature of an amendment with the insertion of the word ‘two’ in the place of ‘one.’

“There will be no promise to reduce the high cost of living.

“There will be no reference to building a merchant marine without imposing additional burdens upon the people.

“There will be no repetition of the pledge that our citizens shall be given full protection for both themselves and their property throughout the world.

“There will be no promise of reduction in the number of public offices.

“There will be no assertion that our pledges are made to be kept when in office as well as relied upon during the campaign.

“More appropriately might the Democrats borrow an expression found on every railway time-table, and close their 1916 platform with the sentence, ‘Subject to change without notice.’”

Lost Pennies.

In these days of high prices and expensive living it behoves us to guard the pennies with a far seeing eye.

Bad pennies sometimes return, but good ones seldom do.

It therefore becomes our duty, when we part with a good penny, to secure the greatest possible returns for it. Lost pennies soon mount into dollars, and the vanishing dollar blazes the way to poverty and eventual nowhere.

You can save the pennies and retain the dollars if you will read carefully each week the advertisements in this paper. They will tell you at which stores you can get the best bargains, where quality is of the best and price is at the minimum, where your true interests lie when you go out to spend the money that comes to you from hours of hard and unceasing toil.

None of us may hope to save all that we earn, for we must live, and it takes money these days even to exist.

We must spend a good portion of our earnings, often all of them, and the judgment and care we use in that expenditure will determine in a considerable measure the enjoyment and pleasures of life.

If we buy at haphazard we too frequently pay dearly for our indifference and lack of economical foresight, whereas if we are prudent and assimilate the knowledge that is laid before us we at least have the satisfaction of knowing we have done the best that we could do under existing circumstances.

Again we suggest, and emphasize, that the wise and prudent course to pursue is to read carefully each week the advertisements in this paper. Read them all, every one of them, for in little places big bargains are often found.

High prices are here, and we as a community can not prevent what a whole nation must endure. But we can, and should, prevent the unnecessary loss of pennies through commercial indifference and neglect.

This is not a day of philanthropy, and merchants are not advertising for the sake of handing their money over to the publisher. They are doing it because they have the goods and make the prices to back up their advertisements, and it is to the financial interest of the consumer to disseminate every advertisement and take advantage of every opportunity thus afforded.

The expense of reading an ad is nothing but a little time when not otherwise engaged. The savings may run into dollars.

President Wilson says he gets less partisan every day. But we notice he goes right on appointing strict Democratic partisans to office and tries to force confirmation upon the Senate. And he is every few days making an order appointing some good Democrat to office in disregard of the merit provisions of the Civil Service Law. And just a few days ago he made an order sweeping into the classified service several hundred temporary employees in the State Department who were appointed without competitive examination. His non-partisanship evidently extends only to the acceptance of all the Republican votes he can get.

That was an awful slam upon the Democratic party when the New York World, professedly Democratic, said that Bryan never did and never could appeal to the sober sense and sober judgment of the American people. On three different occasions, Bryan polled more votes than Wilson did, and at a time when the population of the country was much less than it was when Wilson ran.

Again President Wilson discredits his cabinet. He wants a "council of executive information" composed of seven specialists who will serve without pay and aid his cabinet. But why didn't he get some specialists when he was making up his cabinet? Why does he give one set of men the honors and the money and ask another set of men to furnish the ability and the experience?

Secretary Redfield's refusal to make public the names of the men employed to take the manufacturers' census will make it easier for these men to do good campaign work without the effect being spoiled by knowledge of their official connection with the administration. Secrecy has its uses, even in an administration pledged to pitiful publicity.

Do you remember the time when you was the most anxious of all times to make a good impression? And do you remember the fool break you made? We all do it.

Why should you make a howl when you wife insists on her moral right to vote? She never makes a kick when you invade the kitchen and wash the dishes.

Soon 'twill be the time of year when we can revel in the joys of sunshine and flowers and sweet perfumes, and bugs and gnats and mosquitoes. Oh, joy!

Keeping 130,214 pairs of legs in step in Chicago's great parade was some job. But, on second thought, they were not in step.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN

Here's Where The Fun Comes In

In a Tight Place

Coming home from the merchants association banquet in Shelbyville last night, John A. Titworth's machine was stalled between Rays Crossing and Manilla and would not listen to any sort of persuasion. In the car with Mr. Titworth were Will Inlow, W. R. Jinnett of Manilla and Judge Will M. Sparks. Whether or not they drew straws, anyway it fell to the lot of Judge Sparks and Mr. Jinnett to walk a mile and a half to Manilla for help. The rain fell hard in that vicinity earlier in the evening and the two men had to roll up their trousers and wade through the water in the dark. When they were near Manilla, Judge Sparks stopped Mr. Jinnett, who was once a Christian church preacher and inquired:

"Now look here, Jinnett," he said, "Honor bright, are you still a Campbellite?"

"Yes, I believe I am," Mr. Jinnett faltered, according to a eyewitness. And that does not by any means describe all the troubles that befell Judge Sparks last evening. Space was at a premium in the dining room and Judge Sparks was crowded in between a man and a boy in such fashion that he could reach the table only with his left arm, and then just at times. He had to eat his portion of the banquet while his next-door neighbors rested. Whether that was the penalty for making a speech after the banquet on one is ready to say.

HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS

John Coburn.

John Coburn, soldier, jurist and prophet, was born October 27, 1825 in Indianapolis. Coburn was graduated from Wabash College and after beginning the practice of law rose rapidly to judge of the common pleas court.

At the opening of the rebellion Coburn accepted a commission as colonel of the 33d regiment and was soon promoted to brigadier general.

In 1865 Coburn was elected to Congress and served eight years. It was John Coburn who was largely responsible for the retention of Spanish in the course of study at West Point when President Grant and his secretary of war had recommended dropping it. "The boy is now alive who will issue orders from Morro Castle to a people who will then be citizens of the United States," said Coburn in Congress at that time.

James Douglas Williams (72)

James Douglas Williams, known as Indiana's "plain farm governor," was born near Piqua, Ohio, January 16, 1808. When ten years old his parents settled in Knox county, Indiana.

From 1840 to 1874 Williams was almost constantly in the legislature. His campaign for governor was made popular by the title, "Blue Jeans" which appealed to the farming class and aided considerably in causing him to be elected over Benjamin Harrison who later became president.

Williams died in 1880, two months before his term as governor expired.

all the rest of the people. We undertook the reformation of the tariff with open minds and clean hands, unowned, unpledged to any interest except that of the public welfare, and we are proud of our achievement in writing into law the present Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. Not a schedule in its fosters a monopoly; not a rate in it protects a trust. We made as nearly free of taxation as possible the necessities of life, and sought to obtain as much revenue as they would bear from the luxuries of life. One of the greatest features of this law is the income tax, which raises from the fortunes of the rich, the prosperous, the well-to-do people of the Nation $120,000,000 per annum, and lifts this burden off the tables and backs of the poor.

To my mind, no law is more just than that an income tax. Those that prosper under the Government ought to be willing to pay taxes to perpetuate it. It is a tax that forecloses no mortgages, forces no sales. It is collected only where riches abound and prosperity smiles. Would the Republican Party dare to suggest the repeal of this part of the tariff law? Will they be specific in their objections to this legislation? What schedule would they repeat? What rate would they increase? Would they substitute the Dingley rate or the Payne-Aldrich rate? If they were given control again, would they resent the tariff law that the Democratic Party repealed, a bill that was repudiated by the Republican Party itself at the polls?

Who is it, anyhow, that desires really the repeal of the present law, made by honest men for an honest purpose, that of raising revenue sufficient to defray the expenses of the Government, and substitute in its stead the lobby-made, monopoly-breeding, trust-creating, millionaire-producing, Payne-Aldrich bill? Our Republican friends told us when we enacted this bill into law that it would close the factories, fill the streets with idle men, everywhere;

but we rejoice today to point to an unexampled prosperity in the Nation, with labor more generally employed, at higher rates, shorter hours and better conditions than ever before. Our Republican friends tell us that after the war is over that poor, stricken, prostrate, bleeding Europe will take our home market here from us; that this young virile Republic, with 100,- 000,000 freemen, that has gone out to take the foreign markets of the world, must tremble in great fear lest these wretched countries with millions of their men—the flower and strength of their manhood—buried in the trenches, with their factories destroyed, their country laid waste, their charred and blood-soaked land filled with widows and orphans and crippled men, and upon them the heaviest debt of all ages, will come here to his happy land, un-cured by war's ravages or of its burden of debt, and take home market from us. No, gentlemen; I have no such fear; America is going to take the markets of the world; we are going to meet our competitors in the other markets of the earth and take them, and this great people here fears no competitor at home that we are willing to meet away from home. With the freight rate and cost of transportation in our favor here, we certainly have nothing to fear when we are meeting them where the freight rate and transportation and many times adverse tariffs are in their favor. But we shall cut from them last hope of having even a false issue, for we shall pass a bill creating a tariff board to gather the facts created by the new war conditions or the conditions that may exist after peace is decayed, and upon these official facts, obtained by men not interested in enriching themselves by taxing others, and with this gathered information be ready to meet every new condition which may arise.

We are all Americans no matter whence we come. We love our country because it makes us free. The beauty of the oceans that wash our shores, our fertile plains, our lofty mountains, our winding rivers, our unequalled landscapes, can only be enjoyed in their real and matchless beauty through the eyes of a freeman. More beautiful than the beauty and splendor of the land is the glory of the Government. The humblest may become the greatest, the weakest may become the strongest, the poorest may become the richest; here no taint of blood, no law of royalty. This freedom is as much the right of the one who comes here as the one who is born here. We are glad of it and happy to offer this opportunity and this happiness to all. We only ask in return loyalty, valor, and love; loyalty to the flag, valor in its defense, and love of our free institutions. We do not care what songs of the old home land you may sing or what memories of the country from which you came you may cherish. All we ask is that the song you shall hold dearest to your heart, is the Star-Spangled Banner. And the memories you shall cherish most and best are those of America that makes you free. There are some who seek to destroy this Nation whose freedom and blessings they enjoy. They call themselves anarchists. If I had my way, I would not allow a single man or association of men to bear aloft upon the streets and highways of this Nation a flag or emblem that either questioned the integrity or authority of the Stars and Stripes of the Republic.

Consequently, there are in the American

Every speaker preceding him mentioned Mr. Watson and said that he intended to hurry with his speech so as to hear James E. Watson make an address. Mr. Watson was given another rousing ovation. He was chided quite a bit by John Ryner, Democratic county chairman of Bartholomew county, who spoke before him, but Mr. Watson reversed the fun-making business by stating that he doubted Mr. Ryner's Democracy because of the frequency of the Bible quotations in his speech.

Mr. Watson also found the flag an incentive for oratory that sent the crowd into demonstration after demonstration. He dwelt on the much-talked-of preparedness. He said he had always stood for a standing army of from 250,000 to 300,000 men and an adequate naval preparedness, but that he was opposed to an army that would be a menace in times of peace.

Mr. Watson counseled preparedness as applied to peaceful pursuits. He spoke of the value of military training and discipline applied to everyday life, without the militaristic spirit. While on this subject, Mr. Watson referred to the merchant marine. He told how the American flag, which stood for liberty and peace, had disappeared from the oceans; how when this government was first organized 96 per cent of its exports were carried in American bottoms and how that per cent had decreased to a meagre six; how no vessels flying the American flag now plied in the Pacific Ocean or in the Pacific ocean or to South America.

A previous speaker had been boasting of Martinsville's superior qualities, and of course had not forgotten to mention the water there. Mr. Watson said that he had been given Martinsville some consideration of late. It was once the case, he said, that when he had partaken too freely of the contents of the banquet table, such as the event last night, he had been wont to journey to French Lick for a spell.

"But now times have changed," Mr. Watson continued, "and I find that I have to go elsewhere for fear

I might get the opposite effect in the future."

Walter W. Bonner, a bank cashier of Greensburg, responded to the toast, "The Relation of the Banker to the Merchant." He commented on the wave of patriotism that was sweeping the country. Mr. Bonner hung out his flag last Flag Day as usual, he said, being patriotic, and about noon the finest granddaughter a man ever had was born for him to worship. In the afternoon a neighbor of Bonner's asked another neighbor how it happened Bonner had his flag out.

"Why," replied the second neighbor, "hadn't you heard about it? He has a new granddaughter."

"Well, well," said the first neighbor, "I don't know but that is a good idea. I think I'll try it the next time I get a new grandchild."

But, Mr. Bonner said, this year the average person knew why flags were hanging out on June 14.

"The best success," said Mr. Bonner, "comes not from tearing down your competitor and climbing on his ruins, but by continuing to touch elbows with him and climb as he climbs. Success is the result of cooperation."

Mr. Bonner said each community is entitled to the surplus that it earns and that the bank which has a large investment in commercial paper is not keeping faith with the people.

"Credit is the religion of faith transferred to the business world," declared John Ryner of Columbus, discussing "Credits as Affected by Garnishee Laws."

Mr. Ryner gave a brief synopsis of garnishee legislation in this state and elsewhere. He recalled that the garnishee law in Indiana had been nullified by a supreme court decision many years ago, which held that a man is entitled to the $600 exemption, no matter what his income, which put the ninety per cent exemption on a man's wages, provided in the law, beyond the pale of the statute. For this reason, he declared, Indiana has become a dumping ground for professional "dead beats" because the four surrounding states have adequate laws of this character.

Frank Singleton, owner of the Mineral Springs Colonial hotel and former owner and editor of the Martinsville Reporter, spoke briefly for the Martinsville delegation. He eulogized his home town, declaring that it had been eulogized no less that 15,000 persons visited the eight Martinsville sanitarians every year and stayed on an average of two weeks.

The delegation from Rushville numbered more than a 100 men. Practically all of them remained until after the banquet and enjoyed Shelbyville's hospitality. Elmer Bassett presided as toastmaster at the banquet.

Other officers elected besides the president and vice-president: secretary, Francis L. Thompson, Shelbyville; treasurer, Myron Levinson, Connerville; executive committee, Frank Hasler of Connerville, Albert Deprez of Shelbyville, Thomas Beall of Newcastle, N. D. Hardin of Greenfield and Will C. Ehrhardt of Greensburg. Each local organization will select a member of an advisory committee.

H. C. Morrison delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by Elwood Lawson of Newcastle, at the afternoon session. David W. McKee of Connerville spoke on the subject of good roads, pleading for a state highway department. Commercial organizations at Greensburg, Rushville, Greenfield, Newcastle, Shelbyville and several other cities were well represented.

SIX GRADUATES GRANTED DIPLOMAS

Closing of St. Mary's School is Celebrated Wednesday Night With Appropriate Exercises.

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN

Six were awarded diplomas at the annual graduation exercises of St. Mary's school in the church hall last night. The exercises opened with a welcome song by the school and an address of welcome by Frances Dugan. Following an instrumental trio by Anna Reardon, Fay Casady and Mary Gale, John Ryan gave an instrumental solo. An exercise by the primary department caused applause and a recitation by Elizabeth Walton was equally as delightful. After a skipping song by some little folks, an instrumental trio that was heartily appreciated was rendered by Marguerite Kelly, Anna M. O'Malley and Aileen Geraghty, Lillian Coyne read an essay on "State Centennial" and an instrumental duet was given by Eloise Kelley and Gladys Newman, followed by an instrumental trio by John Ryan, Thomas Ryan and Lester Muster.

The senior boys provoked lots of fun with a short comedy, "Useless Brains." Marguerite Kelly and Frances Dugan rendered an instrumental duet and the girls of the 5th, 6th and 7th grades gave a pantomime, "The Star Spangled Banner," which was very much appreciated.

One of the Sisters sang the song and the girls acted it out appropriately. The "Three Graces," acted by Marie Joyce as Faith, Marguerite Kelley as Hope and Lillian Coyne as Charity, and Frances Dugan taking the part of the angel and Grace Couch that of the maiden, was declared to be one of the best numbers on the program. After an instrumental trio by Marie McCoy, Jessie Mansfield and Margaret Kirk and an instrumental duet by Ruth Price and Norma O'Neil, the graduates sang their farewell song, the school sang the closing song, "Vacation" and the diplomas were awarded by the Rev. M. W. Lyons. The graduates were Marie Joyce, Frances Dugan, Lillian Coyne, Marguerite Kelley, Grace Couch and Paul Doll.

Gold scapular lockets were also presented to each of the graduates by Father Lyons. Prizes were awarded to the following pupils who had the highest general averages in the different grades for scholarship and deportment: eighth grade, Marie Joyce; seventh, Eugene Kirk; sixth, Frances Flodder; fifth, Anna May O'Malley; fourth, Bertha Messing; third, Robert Newbold; second, John Rowan Cauley; first, William Messling.

HOGSETT-INGRAM.

Beautiful because of its charming simplicity, was the wedding this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogsett in North Main street, when their daughter, Martha Marr, was united in marriage to Horace Colby Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ingram of Chicago.

At four o'clock, in the presence of only the relatives and immediate friends, the bride and bridegroom met in front of an impromptu altar of ferns, banked in the bay window of the living room. Pink candles in tall cathedral candlesticks were at each side, giving the only light. Miss Hogsett made beautiful bride, simply gowned in a lovely white voile, trimmed with rows of filet radium lace, and huge bow of white tulip at the back. The costume was completed with a white milan hat, the only decoration being a white bird. She wore a beautiful corsage bouquet. The ceremony was read by Dr. D. Ira Lambert.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served throughout which the color scheme of pink and green was attractively carried out. Ten guests were seated at the bride's table, in the center of which sat a french basket overflowing with sweet peas and tied with a bow of pink roses, were at each of the four smaller tables at which the rest of the thirty guests found their places by the clever place cards, suggestive of the occasion. Pink candles gave the light over the pretty scene. A delicious two-course supper was served the last course of which was ice in the form of pink cupids and wedding cake.

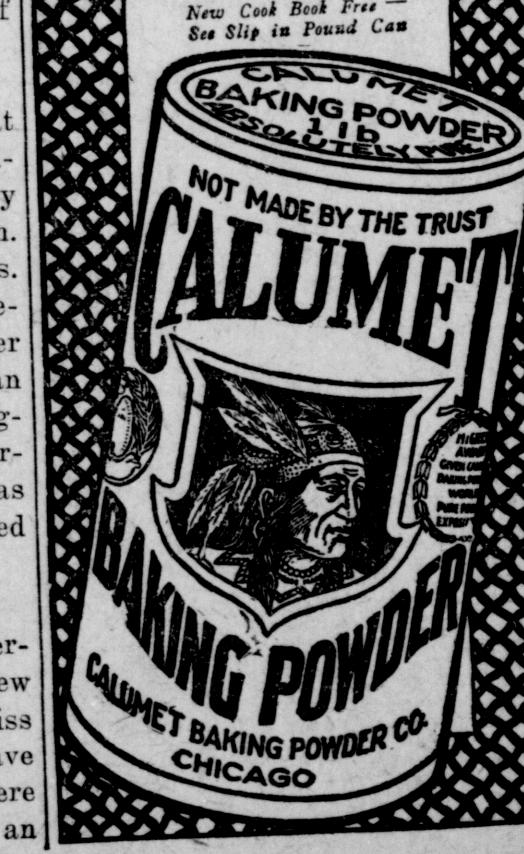

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram leave this evening for Chicago where they will make their home at 1724 East 56th street, the home of Mr. Ingram's parents who are to sojourn in the east for a month after which they will move into their own apartment in Chicago.

The bride's going away suit is a beautiful midnight blue taffeta, with a black picture hat that corresponds. Mrs. Ingram who is one of Rushville's most attractive and accomplished young ladies, attended music school both in Lexington, Ky.,

"Everything baked with Calumet is so tempting—wholesome—delicious—I want 'em all. For things hard to bake right it can't be equalled. Calumet is the world's best Baking Powder—it's moderate in price—pure in the can and pure in the baking—wonderful in leavening and raising power—the most economical to buy and to use."

WIERD SUICIDE PACT TO BE TOLD

Unique and Tragic Twist of "Eternal Triangle" Will be Bared in Trial Starting Today.

ONE-ARMED YOUTH ON TRIAL

Will Put up Defense That Girl Shot Herself and That he Attempted to End His Life.

(By United Press.)

Providence, June 15.—A unique and tragic twist of Fate's "eternal triangle" will be bared in the Superior Court here today, when James O'Brien, a one-armed youth, is put on trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Beatrice Walter.

The crime for which O'Brien will be tried was committed at midnight, May 31. Beatrice Walter, a pretty little 18-year-old girl, was found dead in a lonely field near Field's Point, a bullet-wound in her left breast.

O'Brien, with whom she had been walking since early in the evening told the police a weird tale of a suicide pact, and claims that Beatrice shot herself with his revolver.

"Wouldn't it be nice if we could die together" are the words the girl is alleged to have used. It is O'Brien's contention that he twice attempted to shoot himself, after Beatrice sank dead at his feet, but that each time the bullets struck his belt buckle and were deflected.

The police and Beatrice's parents scout the suicide theory as ridiculous.

"It is murder, pure and simple," Chief Inspector O'Neil told the United Press. "The Walter girl's parents know of no reason why she should wish to die."

It is in this connection, that the "other man" enters into the case, with evidence which may be damning to the one-armed youth on trial for his life.

George S. Larkn, 22, has brought forward conclusively evidence that he and not O'Brien, was Beatrice Walter's sweetheart. He has informed the police that O'Brien twice made threats to kill him, if he did not leave Beatrice alone.

The testimony of this youth, and that of the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the dead body, will be of the greatest importance, and may be the final weight which will carry the scales of justice.

James O'Brien is twenty-one. On account of the loss of one arm, he works as a messenger boy in a jewelry store in Providence. He was in love with Beatrice Walter, pretty daughter of a city inspector.

He was known to be insanely jealous of her, and to resent the attentions of other men, going so far as to threaten them, and to carry a loaded revolver.

On the evening of May 31, O'Brien and Beatrice Walter left her father's house to walk through the woods. What happened during the evening may never be known, but about 4 o'clock the next morning, the youth entered the Walter home, aroused William Walter, her father, and told him that Beatrice had shot herself.

Led by O'Brien, the police and Walter went to the lonely spot where she lay. A bullet-wound beneath her left breast and powder stains on her dress showed that she had been shot at close range.

O'Brien's revolver, five chambers empty, was found near the spot. A slight scraping wound in his abdomen, and a dented belt buckle he offered as evidence of his own attempts at suicide.

He told of how Beatrice, taking his revolver had fired the shot which ended her life. So confusing were parts of his weird tales of the death pact, that he was at once arrested, and arraigned, charged with murder, on the second of June.

WILL RECEIVE ORDERS IN AIR

Officers of Aerial Craft Will Get Messages Over Wireless in Days to Come.

OPINION OF SIGNOR MARCONI

Talks of the Future When Passengers Will be Carried From City to City by Aeroplane.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.) London, June 1.—(By Mail)—In future, when giant aeroplanes are making non-stop mail and passenger runs between New York and Chicago and between other American cities air passengers will be kept in minutest touch with the day's news by wireless; and officers of the aircraft will receive their orders that way, too.

This dream is legitimized today by Signor Marconi, the youthful father of the wireless, here from Italy.

Through a series of experiments carried out in Italy, Marconi announced that the problem of transmitting wireless messages to aeroplanes has been solved. Hitherto this has been impossible. Explaining the invention, Marconi said:

"Before now aeroplanes have been at a disadvantage with airships in wireless work because, while they were able to transmit messages, they have not been able to receive them.

"This was because the receiving signal was too faint to be distinguished over the noise of the motor.

"We have been able to strengthen the receiving signal sufficiently to enable messages to be taken."

Great commercial opportunities are open to the wireless after the war, Marconi also announced.

Long distance transmission has been significantly improved.

The wireless telephone already is playing its part in the war.

Marconi is a soldier and therefore cannot give details of his new discoveries. But he added significantly:

"The war has by no means hindered the development of wireless science."

Marconi is expected to make important announcements after the war.

STUBBORN ECZEMA HEALED BY AMOLOX

We are daily receiving letters of praise from people who have been cured by Amolox. Many of them tell how, for years, they have tried different remedies and doctors in the vain effort to find relief. Some become discouraged and lose all hope of ever being cured. E. R. Frisbee, 187 Sycamore St., Mansfield, O., writes: "Our baby's face was covered with eczema scales, sores and scabs. She was pitiable sight. We tried everything. Took her to Pittsburgh doctors but were unable to find relief until we used Amolox. It cured her within a short time.

Amolox ointment will quickly heal pimples on the face, red nose, and minor skin troubles. Chronic cases of dry or moist scaly eczema require both the ointment and liquid to effect a cure. At all drug stores. Trial size, 50c. Recommended and guaranteed by Hargrove & Mullin. (Advertisement)

SIX HEROES OF AIR HONORED

Medals of the Distinguished Service Order of Military Cross
Are Awarded.

IS NEW TYPE OF GALLANTRY

One of Birdmen Lost a Leg by Shell Fire at an Altitude of 7,000 Feet.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, June 15.—Six new names were written today on England's newest honor list—the aerial gallantry roll.

As the result, six medals of the Distinguished Service Order or the Military Cross has been awarded to members of the Royal Flying Corps for a type of gallantry unknown before the present war.

One of the birdmen newly honored is Lieutenant Malcolm Henderson, Seaforth Highlanders, who lost a leg by shell fire at an altitude of 7,000 feet. Despite his injury he succeeded in maneuvering his machine from above the enemy's lines to a place of safety behind the British lines thus saving his aeroplane, his life and the life of his observer.

Lieutenant Frank Hudson, 18, was severely wounded in the head while on reconnaissance duty flying over the German lines. He clung to consciousness until he had piloted his aeroplane to a place of safety and then fainted. On previous occasions he had brought down two enemy machines.

"For conspicuous gallantry and skill" is the officially worded announcement of honor for Captain J. E. Tennant, Scots Guards, who effected a night bombing of an enemy aviation shed. He shut off his engine, descended to within thirty feet of the objective and dropped his bombs. Although the explosion damaged his machine, he restarted the engine and escaped only to request another machine on his return with which to repeat the operation.

Lieutenants Thomas Howe and Edward Legget, in the same machine, merited decorations for downing two enemy machines during a single flight. After dispatching the first they winged to a higher altitude and engaged the second. Both enemies were downed by machine gun fire.

A number of conspicuous feats are attached to the record of Lieutenant Henry Yates, the last named on the official honor roll. His outstanding accomplishment was the destruction of an enemy waterworks under terrific fire.

With anti-aircraft guns roaring and a company of infantry firing on him he brought his machine down to within six hundred feet and launched his bomb. It dropped in the center of the waterworks destroying it. He then intrepidly attacked the infantry with his machine gun and routed it.

Department of Agriculture Has 770,000 Co-operators

Great Volunteer Working With United States Authorities for Advancement of Farming

1 OF EVERY 20 CO-OPERATES

bors. In many cases, therefore, the scientist's recommendation represents the consensus of opinion of a large number of successful grain growers, truck raisers, dairymen, or other classes of farm managers.

Of the 770,000 co-operators the great majority are men who farm for a living. A wide variety of other occupations is represented in the list, however, from the masters of merchant vessels who take meteorological observations for the Weather Bureau to the college presidents who aid in the educational extension work or the Department or the pig club boys who supply their neighbors with object lessons in the profitable raising of hogs. In a general way the co-operators may be divided into three classes; those who furnish the Department with specific information acquired in the course of their regular occupations; those who demonstrate in actual practice the agricultural methods recommended by the Department; and those who volunteer to perform with new crops and new methods the experiments which furnish science with the necessary data for practical recommendations.

Prominent in the first class are the 158,600 crop correspondents who make possible the government estimates of crop production and values. Trained experts in the Bureau of Crop Estimates take the reports of these men and by careful comparison and averaging arrive at a knowledge of actual conditions throughout the country which could not be obtained in any other way. The information thus secured and published by the Government is an invaluable guide to the farmers and business men of the country and an effective obstacle to reckless speculation and the manipulation of prices. Without such a system the knowledge possessed by any one individual would necessarily be limited to local conditions and it is no longer local but national and worldwide conditions that regulate business. This fact is occasionally overlooked by persons who are surprised to find that a short crop in their own section may be accompanied by low prices and are in consequence inclined to question the accuracy of the Government estimates.

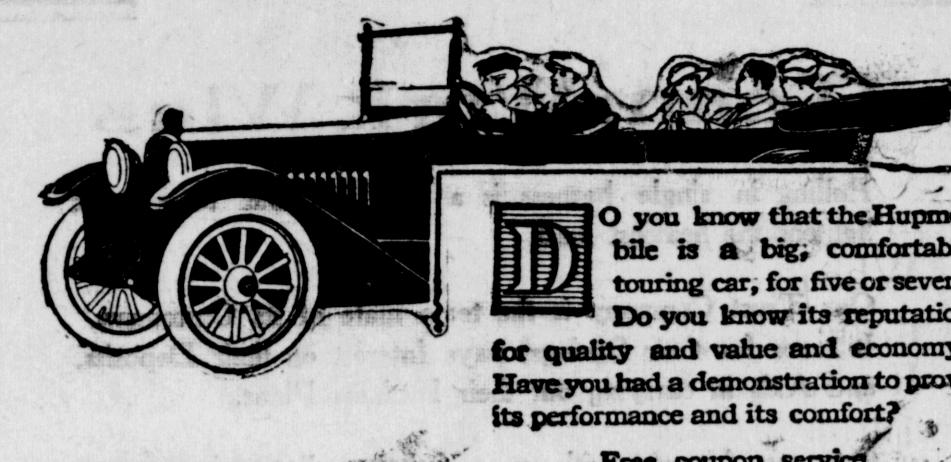

A corresponding service is rendered the Weather Bureau by its corps of observers. The reports from sea captains and mates have already been mentioned. In addition, there are 4,560 observers who report temperature and rainfall regularly, 2,770 who display or disseminate forecasts and warnings, and 1,300, who report weekly during the crop growing season upon the effect of weather conditions.

In its researches and investigations the Department is also in great measure dependent upon reports from co-operators. Fifteen thousand and railroad station agents, for example, have been instructed by railroad officials to furnish the Office of Markets and Rural Organization with postcard reports of shipments of perishable crops which are used in the market news service of the Office. This service was inaugurated last year to aid dealers and producers in the economical and efficient distribution and marketing of such crops as strawberries, cantaloupes, peaches, early onions, etc. Tariffs and other data are also supplied by the railroads, the cotton exchanges and individual firms send quotations, samples and other information; 400 cold storage plants report monthly on their holdings of apples; 500 millers, grain dealers, Chambers of Commerce, etc., furnish the Bureau of Plant Industry with data in connection with the work of grain standardization, and 1,200 creameries and cheese factories report to the Bureau of Animal Industry. These, of course, are only a few instances out of many. They serve to show, however, the ways in which the Department keeps in touch with practical business conditions and is assisted by the same men whom it is working to assist.

In the second class of co-operators are the thousands of farmers who, under the supervision of Department specialists are working out on their own farms the methods recommended by scientific agriculture; the boys and girls of the pig, poultry, corn and canning clubs who are

BIRD CENSUS TO BE TAKEN

Uncle Sam Will Make Survey in Effort to Show Benefits Derived From Birds.

WANT VOLUNTEER HUNTERS

Is Especially Anxious to Get Data of Fruit Districts of Pacific Coast States.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 15.—When Mr. Robin Red Breast and Mr. Robert Thrush swing on the branches near their homes, enjoying the spring breeze and singing and bragging, this month, census enumerators from the United States Bureau of Biological Survey will count them.

A really accurate count of a bird population can be made by any bird-lover going over a 60 or 80-acre unit, says the bureau.

The females, busy with spring housework are often missed; but it's a scientific fact that the males are so swagger and conspicuous that it is hard for a counter to miss them.

So the method to be employed in this census—the Survey's third—is to count the males of each species, and then multiply by two to get the total.

The Survey is calling for volunteer hunters. Especially it wants data on the fruit districts of the Pacific Coast and the South Atlantic and Gulf states.

Reports are wanted, too, on mountain, prairie and semi-arid regions. It doesn't ask expert knowledge.

If bird lovers will take a walk over the fields just as the sun is getting up, they'll find every bird worth counting in any sort of census singing, the Bureau further advises.

This is a prelude to an extensive campaign to persuade the country that when a bird is killed, the nation loses an asset.

Detroit, Mich., June 15.—Marking the close of the American Medical Association's sixty-seventh annual convention, Detroit today will celebrate "Public Health Day," with some 8,000 visiting physicians participating in the ceremonies. The feature of the day will be a public health parade, in which banners on more than a hundred gigantic floats will preach the doctrine of right living.

The parade, which is to be one of the most novel ever seen here, will be staged under the direction of the state board of health, cooperating with officers of the American Medical Association. Of the various floats, 12 will be furnished by Detroit women's clubs, nine by the city recreation commission, 12 by the state board of health, nine by the Anti-Tuberculosis society and five by medical colleges.

ENGLAND'S RICH
WILL BE LOSERS

Optimists Believe That Masses Will Come Out of the War Better Than Rich.

PARASITES TO FOOT BILL

Some Claim That From Appearances The Aristocracy Will Have to go to Work.

(By United Press.)

London, June 15.—Somebody is going to lose financially by the war, of course, but authorities are not agreed as to whether it will be everybody or not.

The answer most generally given is the affirmative—that all classes will suffer.

Certain optimists, however, think perhaps—they are not certain—that the masses will be better off after, than before the war. Their hope is that those who have hitherto been society's parasites will have to foot the bills.

These theorists argue:

"The parasites' money did the masses no good when the parasites had it; it can do the masses no harm to have it taken away from parasites."

It is further argued that such a situation would imply an economic readjustment which must make for conditions except for those who have lived in the past on production by the actual workers.

The view is not held by socialists alone. A number of men who belong to the class which must do the financial suffering, should the forecast be borne out by events, think the same thing, or, rather, are afraid the prediction is an accurate one.

It looks, as they expect it, as if the aristocracy will have to go to work."

H. G. Selfridge, the American department store proprietor, for several years now in business in London, for example, in effect expressed this opinion in a recent exclusive interview to the United Press.

Selfridge, however, as a man himself actively in business, spoke of the possible development as a thing to be desired.

A good many others who agree with him want no such change because it will be at their expense, but nevertheless they believe the signs indicate that it can not be avoided.

demonstrating the neglected possibilities of profit in these fields; the women who have adopted for their own benefit and as a means of instructing their neighbors, improved methods in housekeeping; the 80,946 members of the Farm Bureaus and County Associations which support county agents in the Northern and Western States; nearly 10,000 leaders in club work for community welfare, and the State officials who aid in extension work, in the distribution of animal serums and vaccine and in other ways.

The third way in which farmers are actively co-operating with the Department is in the conduct of experiments. There are as varied as the demonstrations. One man, for example, reports regularly on his progress in breeding ostriches while more than 11,000 are growing the plants which the Department introduces from foreign countries.

Sixty farmers are now furnishing the land and labor for experiments in corn improvement and 30 are aiding the tobacco work of the Department in the same way. Seed corn furnished by the Department is being tested by 600 farmers who, to a certain extent, also demonstrating the varieties they test.

Without the assistance which it received in these and similar ways the Department of Agriculture could not do the work it does. The fact that hundreds of thousands of practical farmers and business men find it worth their while to devote time to the Department's undertakings indicates that they believe them vital to their own affairs.

RUSHVILLE MEN WIN APPLAUSE

Judge Will M. Sparks and James E. Watson Furnish Oratory at Shelbyville Banquet.

CLIMAX TO THE DAY MEETING

At Formation of Hoosier Business Men's Association, Ben A. Cox, is Elected Vice-President.

Rushville was ably represented yesterday, in point of numbers, at the meeting of the Hoosier Business Men's association, and equally as well represented, in point of oratorical effort, by James E. Watson and Judge Will M. Sparks in the evening when the closing event, a monster banquet was held.

At the afternoon session of business men, which did not close until six o'clock, the Hoosier Business Men's association was formed and Will C. Pulse, a lumber dealer of Greensburg, who has been active in boosting the organization, was elected president. Ben A. Cox of this city was selected as vice-president.

The movement that originated the association formed yesterday was started in Rushville several weeks ago when a district banquet of business men was held here. The chief aim of the organization is to obtain honest advertising for its members and to work out other problems for their benefit.

Yesterday was a big day for Shelbyville, culminating in the banquet last night when two hundred and fifty men sat down. Preceding the meeting of business men, there was a big Flag Day celebration staged by the Shelbyville Elks. A monster parade was held and a huge flag presented to the city.

James E. Watson was not on the regular toast list, but he managed to reach Shelbyville in time for the banquet and was given a monster ovation by the banqueters. The fact that it was Flag Day was an incentive to many of the after-dinner speakers for arousing the emotions of the crowd.

Judge Will M. Sparks kept the diners in an uproar with his pleasantries about credit. He described the manner in which he was invited to address the meeting and detailed his subsequent silent consideration of the probably outcome of the faray with his creditors.

"Gentleman," he said, "I count this quite an honor. It is the first time in my life that I have ever met my creditors collectively. True, I have had conversation with them all individually, through many a closeted session, I have never before had the pleasure of meeting them in a bunch."

"I was a bit suspicious when the longest debtor I have, called on me in my office. I thought it over and decided that no harm would befall me. While I see bland smiles on your faces, I am fearful that they portend great catastrophes for me when I reach home."

But speaking in a serious vein, Judge Sparks counseled living within one's income as a means of curing many ills of the day. He said that much of the poor credit was due to that one thing alone. Judge Sparks asked, with great earnestness, if it would not be wise for all of the banqueters, representing the business men of the district, to set for the man whom they considered poor credit, an example by living within their means. Judge Sparks also discussed the trade-at-home propaganda and declared that the proper way to get at the seat of that trouble is for the merchants and their families to trade at home.

AN APPROPRIATE PROGRAM

Wagoner's Orchestra Gives Concert to Audience of 300 People

The concert given by the A. P. Wagoner orchestra last night at St. Paul's Methodist church proved a treat for music lovers. The orchestra composed of sixteen pieces rendered a high quality of music and was received with great enthusiasm by an audience numbering close to three hundred. The orchestra opened the program with national airs which was appropriate because of flag day. The proceeds of the concert will go towards a new piano. The weather kept the attendance down but those in charge were highly pleased with the interest shown.

FIFTY GUESTS AT WOMEN'S MEETING

MEETING PLACE, UNDECIDED

The group meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church held here yesterday was attended by fifty visitors and the meeting was considered one of the best ever held by the organization. The churches in this group are members of the Connerville district and includes societies in Morristown, Arlington, Milton, Dodridge Chapel, Connerville (two churches) and Rushville.

The program was carried out as originally planned with the exception of the discussion of literature by Mrs. Sam Ward of Connerville, who was unable to attend. The feature address of the day was the talk of Miss Gertrude Voightlander, a returned missionary from India.

The place of meeting next year was left to the executive committee of the district organization. Mrs. Charles McGraw of Connerville presided at the session here yesterday.

CLAIMS EXCEED PERSONAL ESTATE

Allegation of W. O. Stewart Who Files Petition to Sell Riley Stewart Real Estate.

ABOUT $3,500 AMOUNT OF DEBTS

William O. Stewart, administrator of the estate of the late Riley Stewart, has filed a petition in circuit court to sell real estate to pay the debts. The petition is directed against Lowell E. Stewart, Clea DeHilla, Kelly DeHilla, Earl Stewart, James W. Logan and Clarinda Smith.

It is alleged that the valid claims against the estate amount to approximately $3,500 and the personal estate is not sufficient to pay this indebtedness. The real estate consists of 40 acres of land which is encumbered and the court is asked that an order be issued directing the administrator to sell the land in order to meet the debts.

The fire bell rang several times today due to damage done to one of the wires when it came in contact with a high tension I. & C. wire. Repairs were made this afternoon.

CONTROVERSY ENDS PEACEABLY

Sheriff Cavitt Appears Before Court

Today and Says he Will Not Work Prisoners on Farm.

NO INTENTIONAL WRONG DONE

He Declares to Judge Sparks That He Had Not Heard Adverse Criticism Being Made.

The controversy between the court and Sheriff Cavitt over working the jail prisoners at the Cavitt farm north of the city has ended peaceably as the sheriff told Judge Sparks this morning that he would not again take the prisoners to the farm.

Sheriff Cavitt told the court that he did no wrong intentionally and merely took the prisoners to the farm in order to give them some exercise. Judge Sparks had threatened to communicate with the governor regarding the action of the sheriff, but on the promise not to take the prisoners to the farm this action will be dropped.

The sheriff told the court he was not aware of the adverse criticism being heaped at the court because of the taking of the prisoners to the farm and that he did not intend to embarrass the court. Sheriff Cavitt was told that the court had no objection to giving the prisoners exercise around the jail, but thought it was going a little too far in taking them to the farm.

Judge Sparks told Sheriff Cavitt that he could see no reason why the court and the sheriff's office could not continue on the same friendly relations as in the past and the difficulty was adjusted to the satisfaction of all.

Numerous complaints had reached Judge Sparks and he was receiving the blunt of the blame for the action of the sheriff, when as a matter of fact he was in no way responsible. The largest number of complaints came regarding Newton Casey, convicted "bootlegger." It was stated that Casey has been at the Cavitt farm many days this spring and summer and the more radical could not see much punishment in this for him.

According to Sheriff Cavitt, the prisoners at the jail will receive their exercise doing odd work around the jail and not at the farm.

CONVENTION TO END TOMORROW

Democrats Will Nominate Wilson and Marshall and not Wait Until Saturday as Planned

QUICK ACTION PROMISED

Delegates Call for Bryan and Chairman James Promises he Will Speak Before Adjournment

(By United Press) Coliseum, St. Louis, June 15.—President Wilson and Vice-president Marshall will be renominated at a session beginning at nine o'clock tonight and the Democratic national convention will end tomorrow.

This definite promise of quick action came today when the rules committee reported. Judge Westcott of New Jersey will place Wilson's name before the convention.

A stirring speech by Chairman James followed by an eleven minute demonstration kept the delegates at fever heat today. The popularity of William Jennings Bryan was demonstrated when delegates shouted from the floor, demanding that he be heard from.

James gave definite word that Bryan will address the convention. After many had called for Bryan James said:

"The chair desires to state that Mr. Bryan has gone to the city club to make a speech. You will have ample opportunity to hear from him during the convention."

Senator James started a tremendous ovation for President Wilson when he said: "Without orphaning a single child, without widowing a single wife, without the firing of a single gun, I say to you, Woodrow Wilson won from the most militant power that has ever brooded over a battlefield complete acquiescence in his demand of American rights."

In a few minutes a parade of standards started with the big Texas lone star flag leading. Cheering swept the entire hall and the galleries. Indiana, Arkansas, Virginia and Kentucky were among the states that joined. Senator Taggart, standing besides James, leaned over and shouted, "Let them go."

Bryan sat solidly through all of the din, fanning himself and apparently oblivious of the demonstration.

Today's session was a picturesque one. It was marked by a note of defiance and boast of President Wilson's successful maintenance of peace. It was a profession of optimism that the people would perpetrate the Wilson policies.

The platform submitted to the Democratic convention will look very different from that drawn by President Wilson. Language is certain to be greatly changed, it became known this afternoon, while members of the platform committee "prespired" and argued over the platform.

"The man that wrote it won't recognize it," said one of the members of the committee, a strong supporter of the president.

It was said, however, that the platform will carry the message desired by the president, though much condensed.

James concluded his speech at exactly 1:01 o'clock. His collar was flopping over his coat. His bald head was beaded with sweat and his hair was water soaked, but James looked happy, nevertheless.

MASONIC NOTICE

PLEADS NOT TO "SWAP HORSES"

Senator Ollie James Makes Eloquent Defense of Wilson Regime at Democratic Convention

PROUD OF LEADER, HE SAYS

Declares Administration Has Brought Prosperity and Plenty to 100,000,000 Americans

(By United Press)

Coliseum, St. Louis, June 15.—His voice burning with emotion, Senator Ollie James of Kentucky today eloquently told the story of the three years of Democratic leadership and lauded Woodrow Wilson as the greatest American of present day history. It was the secondary keynote speech of the Democratic national convention and it evoked a tremendous burst of enthusiasm.

The appeal of James was not to "swap horses while crossing a bloody stream" and a plea for the recognition of the president as a "master diplomat" and "unconquerable leader."

"The Democratic party is proud of the achievement of Woodrow Wilson," he said. "He has brought prosperity and plenty to 100,000,000 Americans. He has given work to every willing hand in the republic. Every toiler has the full dinner pail, full to overflowing."

Shortly before Chairman James took the platform it became known definitely that the convention would be speeded up. The convention probably will end not later than Friday evening. Early tomorrow the nominating will begin.

Continuing, Senator James, the permanent chairman of the convention, spoke in part as follows:

During three years of its national control Democracy has enacted into law more progressive remedial legislation than the Nation has ever had written upon its statute books since its birth. In former national contests in the last two decades our party came as a prophet. We could only point out wrongs and promise remedies; but to-day we come with deeds, not words; with performance, not promise. Our deeds in the Nation have been greater than our words upon the hustings; our performance as the lawmaker greater than our promise as the campaigner. In other words, the Democratic Party has kept its word with the American people. We have made good. We have by our conduct of the affairs of this Nation deserved the renewed confidence of its people by proving worthy of the confidence once bestowed.

The Democratic Party rejoices that under this administration for the first time since the Civil War it was enabled to amend the Constitution of the United States in the interest of good government and the masses of the people. We freed the Senate from the control of the great interests by making it elective by the people at the polls. We wrote into the Constitution itself an amendment, susceptible of no dispute, that wealth should bear its proper burden of the taxation necessary to run the Government efficiently, economically, and honestly.

The Democratic Party undertook to enact a new tariff law in keeping with the historic principles of the Democratic Party and justice to all the people. The Democratic Party believes that the right of taxation can only exist for the purpose of raising sufficient revenue to run the Government. Taxation never did justly exist and never will in a free government for the purpose of enriching one class at the expense of another.

HYPHENATES ARE TO BE DENOUNCED

Democratic National Platform Will Make Some Strong Declaration on That Score

WILSON'S IDEAS EMBODIED

(By United Press) St. Louis, June 15.—Certain hyphenated organizations in the United States charged with attempting to influence the course of this government in its foreign relations will be vigorously denounced in the platform to be adopted by the Democratic national convention.

President Wilson's ideas on international relations, Mexico, suffrage and other issues will dominate the platform. It was learned today, however, that the tentative draft which was sent to St. Louis by Secretary Baker touched only the high spots, leaving numerous minor issues to be worked out by the resolutions committee.

Denunciation of organizations endeavoring to influence this government's policy will come in the Americanism plank. Not only will the organizations themselves be denounced but any party seeking political advantage through such organizations will be included. Strong declaration is made that all Americans should be for America first, and whole hearted allegiance given this government to the exclusion of all others.

William Hittle of Union township has been declared a person of unsound mind and application has been made for his admittance to the asylum at Madison.

WATSON INVITED TO MAKE ADDRESS

Rushville Man is Asked to Speak at Cornerstone Laying of Seymour Federal Building.

DATE NOT ANNOUNCED YET

James E. Watson, of Rushville, has been invited to make the address at the laying of the corner stone of the new Federal building, says the Seymour Republican. The invitation has been extended on behalf of the Commercial Club and Jackson Lodge No. 146, F. and A. M., which is to have charge of the ceremony, and both bodies, as well as the many friends of the Rushville statesman, are hoping that he may be able to come. Congressman Lincoln Dixon has notified the committee that it will be impossible for him to leave his duties at Washington.

Harry H. McDonald, Master of Jackson Lodge, received a communication Monday from Grand Master H. S. Tuthill, of Michigan City, saying that he felt sure he could be present to officiate providing the date was fixed for some day next week.

W. C. Staver, in charge of the construction of the building, said this afternoon that he would be able to set a date within the next day or two, and that it would in all probability be about the middle of next week.

The program, besides the Masonic ceremony and the address, will include some special music, and the Seymour Concert Band may be asked to play.

"CABIRIA"

The last word in motion photographic art comes to the

MYSTIC THEATRE TOMORROW

Gabriele D'Annunzio, who is unquestionably Italy's foremost dramatist, wrote and personally staged the photo spectacle, "CABIRIA." Experts in motion photography predict a new epoch with the introduction of this remarkable film, which is a historical vision of the third century B. C., immediately after the close of the first Punic war. It has never been equalled for regal splendor and barbaric magnificence. Its cast is composed of the best known players of Rome and the ensembles, mobs and armies number over seven thousand people.

D'Annunzio has taken as a basis of this story the strife between Carthage and the Romans, at the time Hannibal took command of the Carthaginian forces, and surprised his antagonists by crossing the Alps with his army. The romance of "CABIRIA" is fictional, but the action and main facts, historical. "Cabiria" the title is the principal character of the scenario. The name means "One rescued from the flames" and Cabiria, an infant child, taken prisoner during the eruption of Mt. Etna, is sold into slavery. The high Priest of the Temple of Moloch was the purchaser and the infant is kept with others until the time arrives for her to be sacrificed to Moloch, whom the Carthaginians worshipped as the God of Fire. She is saved by a young Roman, "Tulyius," and her experiences and sensational escape with the assistance of a veritable Hercules, form the nucleus of the plot. 1200 scenes, a cast of 7,000 characters, herds of elephants and camels—a $250,000 production.

1912 AND 1916 ARE DIFFERENT

Some Planks in the Platform of
Four Years Ago Will be No-

Washington, June 15.—The Republican Publicity Association, through its president, Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement at its Washington headquarters:

“While there seems to be unity of opinion as to the individuals who will be nominated on the National Democratic ticket, it is difficult to imagine upon what sort of a platform of policies those candidates will run. The candidates will be the same as those named in 1912. Manifestly the platform must be radically different. The principal planks upon which the Democratic party made its campaign in 1912 will be chiefly notable by their absence from the platform of 1916.

“There will be no denunciation of the principle of a protective tariff.

“There will be no declaration in favor of free tolls through the Panama Canal.

“There will be no criticism of Republican extravagance.

“No pledge of economy will be made, either directly or inferentially.

“Not a word will be said in regard to the maintenance of the spirit of the civil service law.

“If there be any mention of the single term principle it will be in the nature of an amendment with the insertion of the word ‘two’ in the place of ‘one.’

“There will be no promise to re-

Lost Pennies.

In these days of high prices and expensive living it behooves us to guard the pennies with a far seeing eye.

Bad pennies sometimes return, but good ones seldom do.

It therefore becomes our duty, when we part with a good penny, to secure the greatest possible returns for it. Lost pennies soon mount into dollars, and the vanishing dollar blazes the way to poverty and eventual nowhere.

You can save the pennies and retain the dollars if you will read carefully each week the advertisements in this paper. They will tell you at which stores you can get the best bargains, where quality is of the best and price is at the minimum, where your true interests lie when you go out to spend the money that comes to you from hours of hard and unceasing toil.

None of us may hope to save all that we earn, for we must live, and it takes money these days even to exist.

We must spend a good portion of our earnings, often all of them, and the judgment and care we use in that expenditure will determine in a considerable measure the enjoyment and pleasures of life.

If we buy at haphazard we too frequently pay dearly for our indifference and lack of economical foresight, whereas if we are prudent and assimilate the knowledge that is laid before us we at least have the satisfaction of knowing we have done the best that we could do under existing circumstances.

Again we suggest and emphasize, that the wise and prudent course to pursue is to read carefully each week the advertisements in this paper. Read them all, every one of them, for in little places big bargains are often found.

High prices are here, and we as a community can not prevent what a whole nation must endure. But we can, and should, prevent the unnecessary loss of pennies through commercial indifference and neglect.

This is not a day of philanthropy, and merchants are not advertising for the sake of handing their money over to the publisher. They are doing it because they have the goods and make the prices to back up their advertisements, and it is to the financial interest of the consumer to dissect every advertisement and take advantage of every opportunity thus afforded.

The expense of reading an ad is nothing but a little time when not otherwise engaged. The savings may run into dollars.

President Wilson says he gets less partisan every day. But we notice he goes right on appointing strict Democratic partisans to office and tries to force confirmation upon the Senate. And he is every few days making an order appointing some good Democrat to office in disregard of the merit provisions of the Civil Service Law. And just a few days ago he made an order sweeping into the classified service several hundred temporary employees in the State Department who were appointed without competitive examination. His non-partisanship evidently extends only to the acceptance of all the Republican votes he can get.

That was an awful slam upon the Democratic party when the New York World, professedly Democratic, said that Bryan never did and never could appeal to the sober sense and sober judgment of the American people. On three different occasions, Bryan polled more votes than Wilson did, and at a time when the population of the country was much less than it was when Wilson ran.

Again President Wilson discredits his cabinet. He wants a "council of executive information" composed of seven specialists who will serve without pay and aid his cabinet. But why didn't he get some specialists when he was making up his cabinet? Why does he give one set of men the honors and the money and ask another set of men to furnish the ability and the experience?

Secretary Redfield's refusal to make public the names of the men employed to take the manufacturers' census will make it easier for these men to do good campaign work without the effect being spoiled by knowledge of their official connection with the administration. Secrecy has its uses even in an administration pledged to pitiless publicity.

Do you remember the time when you was the most anxious of all times to make a good impression? And do you remember the fool break you made? We all do it.

Why should you make a howl when your wife insists on her moral right to vote? She never makes a kick when you invade the kitchen and wash the dishes.

Soon 'twill be the time of year when we can revel in the joys of sunshine and flowers and sweet perfumes, and bugs and gnats and mosquitos. Oh, joy!

Keeping 130,214 pairs of legs in step in Chicago's great parade was some job. But, on second thought, they were not in step.

In a Tight Place

Coming home from the merchants association banquet in Shelbyville last night, John A. Titworth's machine was stalled between Rays Crossing and Manilla and would not listen to any sort of persuasion. In the car with Mr. Titworth were Will Inlow, W. R. Jinnett of Manilla and Judge Will M. Sparks. Whether or not they drew straws, anyway it fell to the lot of Judge Sparks and Mr. Jinnett to walk a mile and a half to Manilla for help. The rain fell hard in that vicinity earlier in the evening and the two men had to roll up their trousers and wade through the water in the dark. When they were near Manilla, Judge Sparks stopped Mr. Jinnett, who was once a Christian church preacher and inquired:

"Now look here, Jinnett," he said, "Honor bright, are you still a Campbellite?"

"Yes, I believe I am," Mr. Jinnett faltered, according to a eyewitness.

And that does not by any means describe all the troubles that befell Judge Sparks last evening. Space was at a premium in the dining room and Judge Sparks was crowded in between a man and a boy in such fashion that he could reach the table only with his left arm, and then just at times. He had to eat his portion of the banquet while his next-door neighbors rested. Whether that was the penalty for making a speech after the banquet on one is ready to say.

John Coburn.

John Coburn, soldier, jurist and prophet, was born October 27, 1825 in Indianapolis. Coburn was graduated from Wabash College and after beginning the practice of law rose rapidly to judge of the common pleas court.

At the opening of the rebellion Coburn accepted a commission as colonel of the 33d regiment and was soon promoted to brigadier general.

In 1865 Coburn was elected to Congress and served eight years. It was John Coburn who was largely responsible for the retention of Spanish in the course of study at West Point when President Grant and his secretary of war had recommended dropping it. "The boy is now alive who will issue orders from Morro Castle to a people who will then be citizens of the United States," said Coburn in Congress at that time.

James Douglas Williams (72)

James Douglas Williams, known as Indiana's "plain farm governor," was born near Piqua, Ohio, January 16, 1808. When ten years old his parents settled in Knox county, Indiana.

From 1840 to 1874 Williams was almost constantly in the legislature. His campaign for governor was made popular by the title, "Blue Jeans" which appealed to the farming class and aided considerably in causing him to be elected over Benjamin Harrison who later became president.

Williams died in 1880, two months before his term as governor expired.

all the rest of the people. We undertook the reformation of the tariff with open minds and clean hands, unswayed, unpledged to any interest except that of the public welfare, and we are proud of our achievement in writing into law the present Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. Not a schedule in its fosters a monopoly; not a rate in it protects a trust. We made as nearly free of taxation as possible the necessities of life, and sought to obtain as much revenue as they would bear from the luxuries of life. One of the greatest features of this law is the income tax, which raises from the fortunes of the rich, the prosperous, the well-to-do people of the Nation $120,000,000 per annum, and lifts this burden off the tables and backs of the poor. To my mind, no law is more just than that an income tax. Those that prosper under the Government ought to be willing to pay taxes to perpetuate it. It is a tax that forecloses no mortgages, forces no sales. It is collected only where riches abound and prosperity smiles. Would the Republican Party dare to suggest the repeal of this part of the tariff law? Will they be specific in their objections to this legislation? What schedule would they repeal? What rate would they increase? Would they substitute the Dingley rate or the Payne-Aldrich rate? If they were given control again, would they resent the tariff law that the Democratic Party repealed, a bill that was repudiated by the Republican Party itself at the polls?

Who is it, anyhow, that desires really the repeal of the present law, made by honest men for an honest purpose, that of raising revenue sufficient to defray the expenses of the Government, and substitute in its stead the lobby-made, monopoly-breeding, trust-creating, millionaire-producing, Payne-Aldrich bill? Our Republican friends told us when we enacted this bill into law that it would close the factories, fill the streets with idle men, everywhere; but we rejoice today to point to an unexampled prosperity in the Nation, with labor more generally employed, at higher rates, shorter hours and better conditions than ever before. Our Republican friends tell us that after the war is over that poor, stricken, prostrate, torn, bleeding Europe will take our home market here from us; that this young virile Republic, with 100,000,000 freemen, that has gone out to take the foreign markets of the world, must tremble in great fear lest these war-torn countries with millions of their men—the flower and strength of their manhood—buried in the trenches, with their factories destroyed, their country laid waste, their charred and blood-soaked land filled with widows and orphans and crippled men, and upon them the heaviest debt of all ages, will come here to his happy land, uncursed by war's ravages or of its burden of debt, and take home market from us. No, gentlemen; I have no such fear; America is going to take the markets of the world; we are going to meet our competitors in the other markets of the earth and take them, and this great people here fears no competitor at home that we are willing to meet away from home. With the freight rate and cost of transportation in our favor here, we certainly have nothing to fear when we are meeting them where the freight rate and transportation and many times adverse tariffs are in their favor. But we shall cut from them last hope of having even a false issue, for we shall pass a bill creating a tariff board to gather the facts created by the new war conditions or the conditions that may exist after peace is declared, and upon these official facts, obtained by men not interested in enriching themselves by taxing others, and with this gathered information be ready to meet every new condition which may arise.

We are all Americans no matter whence we come. We love our country because it makes us free. The beauty of the oceans that wash our shores, our fertile plains, our lofty mountains, our winding rivers, our unequalled landscapes, can only be enjoyed in their real and matchless beauty through the eyes of a freeman. More beautiful than the beauty and splendor of the land is the glory of the Government. The humblest may become the greatest, the weakest may become the strongest, here no taint of blood, no law of royalty. This freedom is as much the right of the one who comes here as the one who is born here. We are glad of it and happy to offer this opportunity and this happiness to all. We only ask in return loyalty, valor, and love; loyalty to the flag, valor in its defense, and love of our free institutions. We do not care what songs of the old home land you may sing or what memories of the country from which you came you may cherish. All we ask is that the song you shall hold dearest to your heart is the Star-Spangled Banner. And the memories you shall cherish most and best are those of America that makes you free. There are some who seek to destroy this Nation whose freedom and blessings they enjoy. They call themselves anarchists. If I had my way, I would not allow a single man or association of men to bear aloft upon the streets and highways of this Nation a flag or emblem that either questioned the integrity or authority of the Stars and Stripes of the Republic.

EMIN DEFENDS TURKS' ACTION

Says American People Have Given Verdict in Armenian Question Without Hearing Their Side.

SAYS HIS PEOPLE ARE HUMANE
Claims Neighboring Country Took Advantage of Confidence and Caused the Trouble.

BY DR. AHMED EMIN.
Editor, Constantinople "Tanin;" Graduate of Columbia University, New York.

(Written for United Press)
Constantinople, May 9.—(By Mail)—The American people have given their verdict in the Armenian question without hearing the Turkish side.

Consequently, there are in the American press and public opinion ideas totally unjust to the Turks.

In order to understand the situation rightly, one has to know, first of all, that historically the Turks were the most humane conquering race imaginable.

At a time when they had every opportunity of assimilating the conquered races by force, they gave them freedom of religion, language, and free community organization.

Had the Turks behaved as the Spaniards have against dissenters in religion or race, there would be no Armenians and no Armenian question today.

After the Young-Turkish revolution in 1908, the Christians acquired absolute equality with the Turks.

Their revolutionary activity under the reign of the former Sultan was ascribed to their desire for equal rights of citizenship. It soon became clear that they thought of equal rights only as a means to the end of a national independent existence.

Instead of taking advantage of the new opportunity they had to be established secret societies, made a large revolutionary organization in the country and distributed arms and bombs among their members.

The first duty of every state is to insure its independence. Therefore, Turkey had to resort to all the necessary measures for this important end.

Among the non-Turkish races the Armenians were the nearest to the Turks in regard to their spoken language and social habits.

Several decades ago, when they had not yet begun their revolutionary activity, they enjoyed the full confidence of the Turks, and they were always called by the Turkish press "our faithful fellow-citizens the Armenians."

In abusing the confidence of the Turks, the Armenians went further than the other Christian races.

Especially, during the present war, they did not shrink from open treason, and tried to endanger from within the existence of their country, which was engaged in a fight for life or death at four different fronts, with powerful enemies, and caused the new Armenian troubles.

RUSHVILLE MEN WIN APPLAUSE

themselves and set the example. Every speaker preceding him mentioned Mr. Watson and said that he intended to hurry with his speech so as to hear James E. Watson make an address. Mr. Watson was given another rousing ovation. He was chided quite a bit by John Rynerson, Democratic county chairman of Bartholomew county, who spoke before him, but Mr. Watson reversed the fun-making business by stating that he doubted Mr. Rynerson's Democracy because of the frequency of the Bible quotations in his speech.

Mr. Watson also found the flag an incentive for oratory that sent the crowd into demonstration after demonstration. He dwelt on the much-talked-of preparedness. He said he had always stood for a standing army of from 250,000 to 300,000 men and an adequate naval preparedness, but that he was opposed to an army that would be a menace in times of peace.

Mr. Watson counseled preparedness as applied to peaceful pursuits. He spoke of the value of military training and discipline applied to everyday life, without the militaristic spirit. While on this subject, Mr. Watson referred to the merchant marine. He told how the American flag, which stood for liberty and peace, had disappeared from the oceans; how when this government was first organized 96 per cent of its exports were carried in American bottoms and how that per cent had decreased to a meager six; how no vessels flying the American flag now plied in the Pacific Ocean or in the Pacific ocean or to South America.

A previous speaker had been boasting of Martinsville's superior qualities, and of course had not forgotten to mention the water there. Mr. Watson said that he had been given Martinsville some consideration of late. It was once the case, he said, that when he had partaken too freely of the contents of the banquet table, such as the event last night, he had been wont to journey to French Lick for a spell.

But now times have changed, Mr. Watson continued, and I find that I have to go elsewhere for fear

I might get the opposite effect in the future."

Walter W. Bonner, a bank cashier of Greensburg, responded to the toast, "The Relation of the Banker to the Merchant." He commented on the wave of patriotism that was sweeping the country. Mr. Bonner hung out his flag last Flag Day as usual, he said, being patriotic, and about noon the finest granddaughter a man ever had was born for him to worship. In the afternoon a neighbor of Bonner's asked another neighbor how it happened. Bonner had his flag out.

"Why," replied the second neighbor, "hadn't you heard about it? He has a new granddaughter."

"Well, well," said the first neighbor, "I don't know but that is a good idea. I think I'll try it the next time I get a new grandchild."

But, Mr. Bonner said, this year the average person knew why flags were hanging out on June 14.

"The best success," said Mr. Bonner, "comes not from fearing down your competitor and climbing on his ruins, but by continuing to touch elbows with him and climb as he climbs. Success is the result of cooperation."

Mr. Bonner said each community is entitled to the surplus that it earns and that the bank which has a large investment in commercial paper is not keeping faith with the people.

"Credit is the religion of faith transferred to the business world," declared John Rynerson of Columbus, discussing "Credits as Affected by Garnishee Laws."

Mr. Rynerson gave a brief synopsis of garnishee legislation in this state and elsewhere. He recalled that the garnishee law in Indiana had been nullified by a supreme court decision many years ago, which held that a man is entitled to the $600 exemption, no matter what his income, which put the ninety per cent exemption on a man's wages, provided in the law, beyond the pale of the statute. For this reason, he declared, Indiana has become a dumping ground for professional "dead beats" because the four surrounding states have adequate laws of this character.

Frank Singleton, owner of the Mineral Springs Colonial hotel and former owner and editor of the Martinsville Reporter, spoke briefly for the Martinsville delegation. He eulogized his home town, declaring that it had been elevated no less that 15,000 persons visited the eight Martinsville sanitariums every year and stayed on an average of two weeks.

The delegation from Rushville numbered more than a 100 men. Practically all of them remained until after the banquet and enjoyed Shellyville's hospitality. Elmer Bassett presided as toastmaster at the banquet.

Other officers elected besides the president and vice-president: secretary, Francis L. Thompson, Shelbyville; treasurer, Myron Levinson, Connersville; executive committee, Frank Hasler of Connersville, Albert Deprez of Shelbyville, Thomas Beall of Newcastle, N. D. Hardin of Greenfield and Will C. Elhardt of Greensburg. Each local organization will select a member of an advisory committee.

H. C. Morrison delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by Elwood Lawson of Newcastle, at the afternoon session. David W. McKee of Connersville spoke on the subject of good roads, pleading for a state highway department. Commercial organizations at Greensburg, Rushville, Greenfield, Newcastle, Shelbyville and several other cities were well represented.

SIX GRADUATES GRANTED DIPLOMAS

Closing of St. Mary's School is celebrated Wednesday night with appropriate exercises.

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN

Six were awarded diplomas at the annual graduation exercises of St. Mary's school in the church hall last night. The exercises opened with a welcome song by the school and an address of welcome by Frances Dugan. Following an instrumental trio by Anna Reardon, Fay Casady and Mary Gale, John Ryan gave an instrumental solo. An exercise by the primary department caused applause and a recitation by Elizabeth Walton was equally delightful.

After a skipping song by some little folks, an instrumental trio that was heartily appreciated was rendered by Marguerite Kelly, Anna M. O'Malley and Aileen Geraghty, Lillian Coyne read an essay on "State Centennial" and an instrumental duet was given by Eloise Kelley and Gladys Newman, followed by an instrumental trio by John Ryan, Thomas Ryan and Lester Muster.

The senior boys provoked lots of fun with a short comedy, "Useless Brains." Marguerite Kelley and Frances Dugan rendered an instrumental duet and the girls of the 5th, 6th and 7th grades gave a pantomime, "The Star Spangled Banner," which was very much appreciated.

One of the Sisters sang the song and the girls acted it out appropriately.

The "Three Graces," acted by Marie Joyce as Faith, Marguerite Kelley as Hope and Lillian Coyne as Charity, and Frances Dugan taking the part of the angel and Grace Couch that of the maiden, was declared to be one of the best numbers on the program.

After an instrumental trio by Marie McCoy, Jessie Mansfield and Margaret Kirk and an instrumental duet by Ruth Price and Norma O'Neil, the graduates sang their farewell song, the school sang the closing song, "Vacation" and the diplomas were awarded by the Rev. M. W. Lyons. The graduates were Marie Joyce, Frances Dugan, Lillian Coyne, Marguerite Kelley, Grace Couch and Paul Doll.

Gold scapular lockets were also presented to each of the graduates by Father Lyons. Prizes were awarded to the following pupils who had the highest general averages in the different grades for deportment; eighth grade, Marie Joyce; seventh, Eugene Kelly; sixth, Frances Flodder; fifth, Anna May O'Malley; fourth, Bertha Messing; third, Robert Newbold; second, John Rowan Cauley; first, William Messing.

HOGSETT-INGRAM.

Beautiful because of its charming simplicity, was the wedding this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogsett in North Main street, when their daughter, Martha Marr, was united in marriage to Horace Colby Ingram, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ingram of Chicago.

At four o'clock, in the presence of only the relatives and immediate friends, the bride and bridegroom met in front of an impromptu altar of ferns, banked in the bay window of the living room. Pink candles in tall cathedral candlesticks were at each side, giving the only light. Miss Hogsett made a beautiful bride, simply gowned in a lovely white voile, trimmed with rows of filet radium lace, and huge bow of white tulle at the back. The costume was completed with a white milan hat, the only decoration being a white bird. She wore a beautiful corsage bouquet. The ceremony was read by Dr. D. Ira Lambert.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served throughout which the color scheme of pink and green was attractively carried out. Ten guests were seated at the bride's table, in the center of which sat a french basket overflowing with sweet peas and tied with a bow of pink roses, were at each of the four smaller tables at which the rest of the thirty guests found their places by the clever place cards, suggestive of the occasion. Pink candles gave the light over the pretty scene. A delicious two-course supper was served the last course of which was ice in the form of pink cupids and wedding cake.

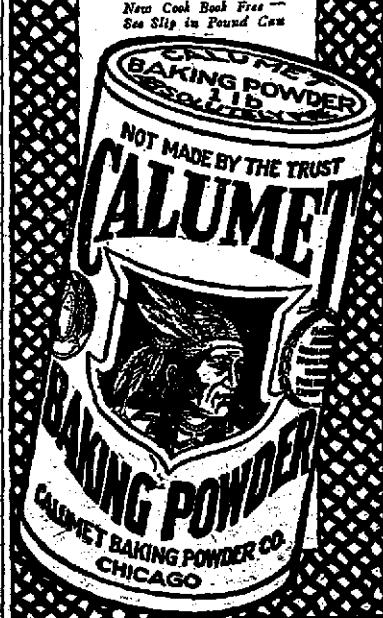

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram leave this evening for Chicago where they will make their home at 1724 East 58th street, the home of Mr. Ingram's parents who are to sojourn in the east for a month after which they will move into their own apartment in Chicago.

The bride's going away suit is a beautiful midnight blue taffeta, with a black picture hat that corresponds. Mrs. Ingram who is one of Rushville's most attractive and accomplished young ladies, attended music school both in Lexington, Ky.,

"Everything baked with Calumet is so tempting—wholesome—delicious—I want 'em all. For things hard to bake right it can't be equalled. Calumet is the world's best Baking Powder—it's moderate in price—pure in the can and pure in the baking—wonderful in leavening and baking power—the most economical to buy and to use."

WIERD SUICIDE PACT TO BE TOLD

Unique and Tragic Twist of "Eternal Triangle" Will be Bared in Trial Starting Today.

ONE-ARMED YOUTH ON TRIAL

Will Put up Defense That Girl Shot Herself and That he Attempted to End His Life.

(By United Press.)

Providence, June 15.—A unique and tragic twist of Fate's "eternal triangle" will be bared in the Superior Court here today, when James O'Brien, a one-armed youth, is put on trial for the murder of his sweetheart, Beatrice Walter.

The crime for which O'Brien will be tried was committed at midnight, May 31. Beatrice Walter, a pretty little 18-year-old girl, was found dead in a lonely field near Field's Point, a bullet-wound in her left breast.

O'Brien, with whom she had been walking since early in the evening, told the police a weird tale of a suicide pact, and claims that Beatrice shot herself with his revolver.

"Wouldn't it be nice if we could die together" are the words the girl is alleged to have used. It is O'Brien's contention that he twice attempted to shoot himself, after Beatrice sank dead at his feet, but that each time the bullets struck his belt buckle and were deflected.

The police and Beatrice's parents scoff the suicide theory as ridiculous.

"It is murder, pure and simple," Chief Inspector O'Neil told the United Press. "The Walter girl's parents know of no reason why she should wish to die."

It is in this connection, that the "other man" enters into the case, with evidence which may be damning to the one-armed youth on trial for his life.

George S. Lark, 22, has brought forward conclusively evidence that he and not O'Brien, was Beatrice Walter's sweetheart. He has informed the police that O'Brien twice made threats to kill him, if he did not leave Beatrice alone.

The testimony of this youth, and that of the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the dead body, will be of the greatest importance, and may be the final weight which will carry the scales of justice.

James O'Brien is twenty-one. On account of the loss of one arm, he works as a messenger boy in a jewelry store in Providence. He was in love with Beatrice Walter, pretty daughter of a city inspector.

He was known to be insanely jealous of her, and to resent the attentions of other men, going so far as to threaten them, and to carry a loaded revolver.

On the evening of May 31, O'Brien and Beatrice Walter left her father's house to walk through the woods. What happened during the evening may never be known, but about 4 o'clock the next morning, the youth entered the Walter home, aroused William Walter, her father, and told him that Beatrice had shot herself.

Led by O'Brien, the police and Walter went to the lonely spot where she lay. A bullet-wound beneath her left breast and powder stains on her dress showed that she had been shot at close range.

O'Brien's revolver, five chambers empty, was found near the spot. A slight scraping wound in his abdomen, and a dented belt buckle he offered as evidence of his own attempts at suicide.

He told of how Beatrice, taking his revolver had fired the shot which ended her life. So confusing were parts of his weird tales of the death pact, that he was at once arrested, and arraigned, charged with murder, on the second of June.

WILL RECEIVE ORDERS IN AIR

Officers of Aerial Craft Will Get Messages Over Wireless in Days to Come.

OPINION OF SIGNORE MARCONI

Talks of the Future When Passengers Will be Carried From City to City by Aeroplane.

BY WILBUR S. FORREST.
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

London, June 1.—(By Mail)—In future, when giant aeroplanes are making non-stop mail and passenger runs between New York and Chicago and between other American cities air passengers will be kept in minutest touch with the day's news by wireless; and officers of the aircraft will receive their orders that way, too.

This dream is legitimatized today by Signor Marconi, the youthful father of the wireless, here from Italy.

Through a series of experiments carried out in Italy, Marconi announced that the problem of transmitting wireless messages to aeroplanes has been solved. Hitherto this has been impossible. Explaining the invention, Marconi said:

"Before now aeroplanes have been at a disadvantage with airships in wireless work because, while they were able to transmit messages, they have not been able to receive them.

"This was because the receiving signal was too faint to be distinguished over the noise of the motor.

"We have been able to strengthen the receiving signal sufficiently to enable messages to be taken."

Great commercial opportunities are open to the wireless after the war, Marconi also announced.

Long distance transmission has been signally improved.

The wireless telephone already is playing its part in the war.

Marconi is a soldier and therefore cannot give details of his new discoveries. But he added significantly:

"The war has by no means hindered the development of wireless science."

Marconi is expected to make important announcements after the war.

STUBBORN ECZEMA HEALED BY AMOLOX

We are daily receiving letters of praise from people who have been cured by Amolox. Many of them tell how, for years, they have tried different remedies and doctors in the vain effort to find relief. Some become discouraged and lose all hope of ever being cured. E. R. Frisbee, 187 Sycamore St., Mansfield, O., writes: "Our baby's face was covered with eczema scales, sores and scabs. She was a pitiable sight. We tried everything. Took her to Pittsburgh doctors but were unable to find relief until we used Amolox. It cured her within a short time.

Amolox ointment will quickly heal pimples on the face, red nose, and minor skin troubles. Chronic cases of dry or moist scaly eczema require both the ointment and liquid to effect a cure. At all drug stores. Trial size, 50c. Recommended and guaranteed by Hargrove & Mullin.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they can only reach the diseased portion of the ear, and that is by constitutional remedies, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for sample free.

Department of Agriculture
Has 770,000 Co-operators

Great Volunteer Working With United States Authorities for Advancement of Farming

1 OF EVERY 20 CO-OPERATES

Washington, June 15. Nearly 770,000 persons, largely successful farmers, are now aiding the U. S. Department of Agriculture by furnishing information, demonstrating the local usefulness of new methods, testing out theories, experimenting and reporting on conditions in their districts—by helping, in short, in almost every conceivable way to increase the knowledge of the Department and to place that knowledge at the service of the people. This army of volunteers receives no pay from the Government. Many of these co-operators are actuated solely by a wish to be of service to their neighbors. Others take part in this work because of their own keen interest in testing new methods, or in trying out for themselves crops either new to their own sections or imported from foreign countries through the Department's plant explorers.

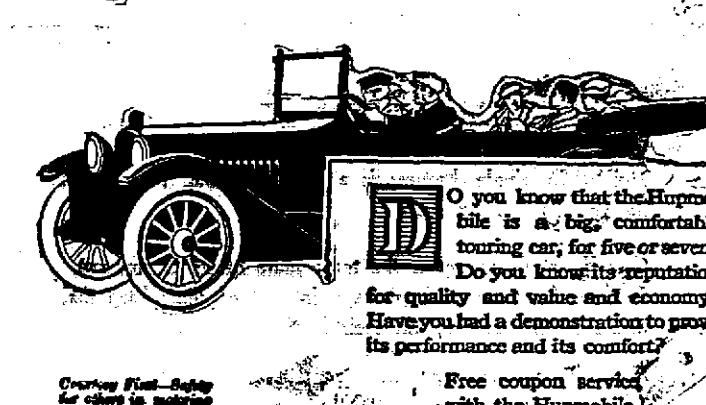

It is estimated that at least one farm out of every twenty is working in some way with the Department of Agriculture and thus has become a center of advanced agricultural information for its community. In addition to the farmers who work directly with the Department of Agriculture, there are thousands of others who render a similar valuable service to the scientists and field workers of the State agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

With such a large number of farmers willing to work with the Department and the colleges and test out their recommendations, it is clear that a significant change has taken place from the day when the average farmer was decidedly skeptical about scientific agriculture and slow or unwilling to give attention to the recommendations of what many used to designate as "book farmers." The wide use made by the Department of this large number of practical farmers indicates clearly how erroneous was the once prevalent idea that agricultural scientists held themselves aloof and that the Department of Agriculture consisted mainly of college-trained men, who were far more at home in their offices or laboratories than on actual farms. As a matter of fact, the scientific agriculturist today does not attempt to evolve theories in the seclusion of a Government building, his laboratory, but before he is ready to advise farmers to adopt them he tries them out in actual practice on Government farms, and then calls on a large number of successful practical farmers to give these ideas an independent practical test on some of their own acres. In many other cases the scientist goes to the farmer both for his theory and practice. He studies and analyzes the practice of hundreds or thousands of successful farmers in an endeavor to find the scientific basis or underlying principle of farming methods which have, through long years of practical experience, been found to be most successful for their farms and neighborhoods. Frequently the scientist finds in one community certain farmers who are successful and others who are unsuccessful. He searches for the reasons for the success and failure of the two groups, and then endeavors to make clear to the successful ones the scientific reason for their success.

In its researches and investigations the Department is also in great measure dependent upon reports from co-operators. Fifteen thousand railroad station agents, for example, have been instructed by railroad officials to furnish the Office of Markets and Rural Organization with postcard reports of shipments of perishable crops which are used in the market news service of the Office. This service was inaugurated last year to aid dealers and producers in the economical and efficient distribution and marketing of such crops as strawberries, cantaloupes, peaches, early onions, etc. Tariffs and other data are also supplied by the railroads, the cotton exchanges and individual firms send quotations, samples and other information; 400 cold storage plants report monthly on their holdings of apples; 500 millers, grain dealers, Chambers of Commerce, etc., furnish the Bureau of Plant Industry with data in connection with the work of grain standardization, and 1,200 creameries and cheese factories report to the Bureau of Animal Industry. These, of course, are only a few instances out of many. They serve to show, however, the ways in which the Department keeps in touch with practical business conditions and is assisted by the same men whom it is working to assist.

In the second class of co-operators are the thousands of farmers who, under the supervision of Department specialists are working out on their own farms the methods recommended by scientific agriculture, the boys and girls of the pig, poultry, corn and canning clubs who are continued on Page 10.

BIRD CENSUS TO BE TAKEN

Uncle Sam Will Make Survey in Effort to Show Benefits Derived From Birds.

WANT VOLUNTEER HUNTERS

Is Especially Anxious to Get Data of Fruit Districts of Pacific Coast States.

(By United Press.) Washington, June 15.—When Mr. Robin Red Breast and Mr. Robert Thrush swing on the branches near their homes, enjoying the spring breeze and singing and bragging, this month, census enumerators from the United States Bureau of Biological Survey will count them.

A really accurate count of a bird population can be made by any bird-lover going over a 60 or 80-acre unit, says the bureau.

The females, busy with spring housework are often missed; but it's a scientific fact that the males are so swagger and conspicuous that it is hard for a counter to miss them.

So the method to be employed in this census—the Survey's third—is to count the males of each species, and then multiply by two to get the total.

The Survey is calling for volunteer hunters. Especially it wants data on the fruit districts of the Pacific Coast and the South Atlantic and Gulf states.

Reports are wanted, too, on mountain, prairie and semi-arid regions. It doesn't ask expert knowledge.

If bird lovers will take a walk over the fields just as the sun is getting up, they'll find every bird worth counting in any sort of census singing, the Bureau further advises.

This is a prelude to an extensive campaign to persuade the country that when a bird is killed, the nation loses an asset.

MANY DOCTORS IN BIG HEALTH PARADE

Eight Thousand Take Part in Public Health Day Event at Detroit — Novel Event.

WOMEN FURNISH FLOATS

(By United Press.) Detroit, Mich., June 15.—Marking the close of the American Medical Association's sixty-seventh annual convention, Detroit today will celebrate "Public Health Day," with some 8,000 visiting physicians participating in the ceremonies. The feature of the day will be a public health parade, in which banners on more than a hundred gigantic floats will preach the doctrine of right living.

The parade, which is to be one of the most novel ever seen here, will be staged under the direction of the state board of health, cooperating with officers of the American Medical Association. Of the various floats, 12 will be furnished by Detroit women's clubs, nine by the city recreation commission, 12 by the state board of health, nine by the Anti-Tuberculosis society and five by medical colleges.

ENGLAND'S RICH
WILL BE LOSERS

Optimists Believe That Masses Will Come Out of the War Better Than Rich.

PARASITES TO FOOT BILL

Some Claim That From Appearances The Aristocracy Will Have to go to Work.

(By United Press.) London, June 15.—Somebody is going to lose financially by the war, of course, but authorities are not agreed as to whether it will be everybody or not.

The answer most generally given is the affirmative—that all classes will suffer.

Certain optimists, however, think perhaps—they are not certain—that the masses will be better off after, than before the war. Their hope is that those who have hitherto been society's parasites will have to foot the bills.

These theorists argue: "The parasites' money did the masses no good when the parasites had it; it can do the masses no harm to have it taken away from parasites."

It is further argued that such a situation would imply an economic readjustment which must make for conditions except for those who have lived in the past on production by the actual workers.

The view is not held by socialists alone. A number of men who belong to the class which must do the financial suffering, should the forecast be borne out by events, think the same thing, or, rather, are afraid the prediction is an accurate one.

It looks, as they expect it, as if the aristocracy will have to go to work."

H. G. Selfridge, the American department store proprietor, for several years now in business in London, for example, in effect expressed this opinion in a recent exclusive interview to the United Press.

Selfridge, however, as a man himself actively in business, spoke of the possible development as a thing to be desired.

A good many others who agree with him want no such change because it will be at their expense, but nevertheless they believe the signs indicate that it can not be avoided.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
HAS 770,000 CO-OPERATORS

Continued from Page 8, demonstrating the neglected possibilities of profit in these fields; the women who have adopted for their own benefit and as a means of instructing their neighbors, improved methods in housekeeping; the 80,946 members of the Farm Bureaus and County Associations which support county agents in the Northern and Western States; nearly 10,000 leaders in club work for community welfare, and the State officials who aid in extension work, in the distribution of animal serums and vaccine and in other ways.

The third way in which farmers are actively co-operating with the Department is in the conduct of experiments. There are as varied as the demonstrations. One man, for example, reports regularly on his progress in breeding ostriches while more than 11,000 are growing the plants which the Department introduces from foreign countries.

Sixty farmers are now furnishing the land and labor for experiments in corn improvement and 30 are aiding the tobacco work of the Department in the same way. Seed corn furnished by the Department is being tested by 600 farmers who, to a certain extent, also demonstrating the varieties they test.

Without the assistance which it received in these and similar ways the Department of Agriculture could not do the work it does. The fact that hundreds of thousands of practical farmers and business men find it worth their while to devote time to the Department's undertakings indicates that they believe them vital to their own affairs.
